

“Medycyna Pracy” COVID-19 issue and vaccination articles – promotion

1) COVID-19

2) vaccination

1) COVID-19

Polish and English Manuscripts regarding COVID-19 will undergo a fast-track peer review process and 20% editorial fee discount. Accepted articles will be published online and indexed in PubMed and they will be published in the “Medycyna Pracy” issue at the end of 2022.

We encourage you to submit original papers, reviews, case reports and short reports describing research in the field of occupational and environmental health in the context of the COVID-19 pandemic. Articles in the disciplines of public health, epidemiology, physiology, psychology and clinical sciences will be published. Observational studies on the impact of the pandemic on workers' health, such as virus transmission, COVID-19 infection among various occupational groups, vaccination of workers and the effectiveness of preventive measures and methods, will be considered particularly significant.

DISCOUNT TERMS AND CONDITIONS

- COVID-19 article submission between February 1 and April 30, 2022
- the note “COVID-19 –20%” added in the Editorial System (at the “Cover Letter” stage: <http://www.editorialsystem.com/medpren>)
- an article prepared carefully according to the instructions for authors (<http://medpr.imp.lodz.pl/Instructions-for-Authors,43.html>)
